The examination covers the scope of knowledge appropriate to the field, form, and level of studies conducted in Polish to which the candidate is applying, provided that the academy conducts admission for the given field of study.
2. In the case of foreign candidates applying for admission to first-cycle studies on the basis of a foreign-issued document which is not a document referred to in Article 326a(1) of the Act – Law on Higher Education and Science, such persons are required to take and obtain a positive result in the PAAS Entrance Examination. The examination covers the scope of knowledge appropriate to the field, form, and level of studies conducted in English to which the candidate is applying, provided that the academy conducts admission for the given field of study.

1. For each field of study/level/form/language of instruction, separate ranking lists are created, on which candidates admitted to the qualification procedure are entered.
2. Candidates are ranked on the ranking list based on the results obtained in the qualification procedure, in descending order of points scored.
3. A cut-off threshold is established on the ranking list, taking into account the limit of places for a given field of study and the principle that:

4. The cut-off threshold may be lowered in the event that the admission limit is not reached.
5. The decision to lower the cut-off threshold is made by the Vice-rector for teaching.
6. Candidates above the cut-off threshold are qualified for admission to the studies.
7. Candidates below the cut-off threshold are placed on a reserve list.
8. After lowering the cut-off threshold, candidates from the reserve list are qualified for admission in accordance with their ranking order.
9. In the event that, following the main recruitment procedure, the limit of places for a given field of study/level/form conducted in Polish or English has not been filled, and there are no candidates remaining on the reserve list, or a decision has been made to conclude the procedure, the Vice-Rector for Academic Affairs may initiate a supplementary recruitment, setting and announcing the deadlines for the supplementary admission.
